Reflections from the Heart by Fr. Ivan

"You are lacking in one thing. Go, sell what you have, and give to the poor and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me." People who have experienced the same situations in life as we have or have undergone similar circumstances seem to better understand us. They get us. They understand because they can relate to what we have been through. Especially the most difficult moments in life. They understand our struggles, our hurts, our pains, our impatience, our sorrows. They understand our hardships, our illnesses, our exhaustion, our heartaches, our losses. They understand it because they have been there and have personally suffered through it. That's what I love about Jesus. He gets us, he understands us. Having been born into our human weakness and frailty, Jesus understands our challenges and limitations, our temptations and frustrations, our shocks and surprises, our fears and our needs. He knows our bodies, our particular circumstances, the problems we face in life. He knows because he has personally experienced the effects of our fallen and sinful state. Jesus knows the challenges we have gone through, he understands what we are going through right now and everything we will have to face later. He understands our lives are busy, our minds are restless, our time over occupied. In order to help us, he graciously meets us where we are and invites us to follow him to a better place, a better life, a better frame of mind. Jesus will come and meet us at work or school. He will come and visit us in our lives and in our homes. He will come and meet us in our jobs and occupations. He will come and meet us in any situation and in every circumstance. That's what he did when he called the disciples - he met them where they were. It didn't matter their particular state of life. Although we can learn and grow from each Apostles' call, the fishermen leave us with a beautiful Christ encounter to personally consider. Fishing was their livelihood, their lives were dependent on it. We often hear they were unsuccessful with a catch. However, all that changes when Jesus comes to meet them where they are and fishes for them. He casts a wide net of confidence and joy. He lures them with words of truth, encouragement, everlasting life. Who can resist the sweet fragrance of his goodness, wholeness, holiness? They dropped everything and followed Jesus. They became true followers of Christ. How about you? Is Jesus leading you?

Young adults get excited!

Join us for our next event on Tuesday, October 12th at 6pm as we continue to explore the dynamics of prayer. We gather in the Nazareth Center. RSVP at www.annunciationorlando.org/yam

We will see you there!

Celebrating a Year of St. Joseph

Join us for a 44 day journey of Consecration to Jesus through St. Joseph. We took this journey in February and we are offering it again for those that were unable to participate and for those that would like to re-consecrate.

We will begin on Tuesday, October 26th and end on Wednesday, December 8th (the Feast of the Immaculate Conception)

Each daily reflection will give us an opportunity to reflect on the full humanity of Jesus, Mary and Joseph to spark insights into what their humanity means for us. In this way, we hope to enter more fully, more perfectly, into our own Baptism and into the image of the beloved child we were created to be.

All of the material will be available online and through email and there is no cost to participate. You may also purchase a book for $6 in our Bookstore. Please pray about your participation in this journey.

Pillars of Faith

by Fr. Stephen
Baumann

St. Francis of Assisi – October 4th

Francis, a man of God, left his home and gave away his wealth to become poor and in need. But the Lord cared for him.

Francis (1181-1226) was born in Assisi to wealthy parents, and spent his youth in a carefree life. He went to war, and was taken prisoner in 1202. After his release, he became ill and shortly thereafter he had a vision of Christ that radically changed his life. He devoted himself to poverty and care of the sick, resolving to reflect the image of Christ through a life of poverty and humility.

He angered his father, a wealthy merchant, who disinherited him, and was considered to be a madman by his family and friends. He was subjected to ridicule as he went about begging on behalf of the poor. Attracted by Francis's genuine concern for the needy, disciples soon followed after him, some of them influential people, and this led to the founding of the Franciscan Order in 1209.

Two years before he died, Francis received the stigmata on the feast of the Finding of the True Cross, September 14th, 1224, while at prayer. This was the climax of the extraordinary spiritual events experienced throughout his life. He died on October 3rd, 1226, and was canonized in record time – just two years later.

The life and ideal of St. Francis have been romanticized, but Francis himself was always a realist. He experienced poverty and knew injustice. He personally suffered illness and pain, rejection and ridicule. Through it all, he was an example of genuine joy and humility. He was outstanding in his apostolic zeal and love, especially to the poor and the sick. He was untiring in his efforts on their behalf, and left that as a legacy for us.

Francis would say to us today what he wrote in a letter to his followers: "Let us also love our neighbors as ourselves. Let us have charity and humility. Let us give alms because these cleanse our souls from the stains of sin. We must not be wise according to the flesh. Rather we must be simple, humble and pure. We should never desire to be over others. Instead, we ought to be servants who are submissive to every human being for God's sake. The Spirit of the Lord will rest on all who live in this way and persevere in it to the end." (2nd Reading, Liturgy of the Hours).

We live in a depersonalized era. The attraction of and to St. Francis of Assisi is his personal warmth and sensitivity to people as individuals. Francis did not deal with people from afar; rather he wanted to touch them, not out of sentimentality, but out of genuine love.

May we walk in the footsteps of St. Francis of Assisi and imitate his joyful love and zeal. Let us share our gifts with each person we meet, in a spirit of simplicity and humility.

JOHN XXIII: THE POPE OF PEACE

This movie tells the whole life story of John XXIII from his youth through his young priesthood, episcopacy, life as cardinal, and eventually his life as Pope. Elected supposedly as an "interim Pope" who would just keep the status quo and listen to the advisers around him, John XXIII proved to be his own man when he surprised the Church and world by calling for the Second Vatican Council.
