Reflections from the Heart by Fr. Ivan

“Blessed are those who fear the Lord.” One of the ways I have been asked to consider fear in order to help me better understand and determine when something is truly fearful and to be feared, is to consider fear as the result of something or someone that is truly life threatening. To consider whether a specific incident, experience or circumstance is truly a cause to be afraid and full of fear. For me personally, this revelation has proven to be most helpful to me in the new way I view specific situations and how I now respond to particular individuals in these particular circumstances. For some, we are afraid of so many things and individuals that are not really life threatening but rather can be a nuisance. Or a situation we would rather like to avoid than to face, but in the end, with the help of God’s grace, we can get through and continue to live happily. Think of the most embarrassing moment or situation you could possibly imagine for yourself and hope that it will never happen. What if the most embarrassing moment you dreaded in life happened? Would that truly be the end or simply a terrible, embarrassing moment that potentially shatters your image and credibility, destroys your name and reputation, deflates your pride and ego, humbles you and causes you to be truthful, honest and just. True fear is a scary thing that causes us to pray with abandonment because we are uncertain if we will get through it or survive the ordeal. The sudden loss of fuel, power, food or communication in a remote deserted place can be fearful for some or perhaps a moment to trust for others. The sudden loss of cabin pressure on a flight heading to your next vacation destination can be scary and fearful but less scary while praying a rosary. We may be afraid of the dark or of certain creepy crawly things. We may be afraid to talk or perform in front of a large crowd or audience. We may even be majorly embarrassed when a lie is uncovered and brought to light. In the end, we can recover from our mistakes and try to heal what may have been broken. In the end, Holy Fear is the only fear. Not being afraid of God because God is not life threatening but rather life giving for perfect love, God’s love casts out our fear.

Happy Thanksgiving to you and your family!

The Breaking of the Oplatek !

In many Polish homes throughout the world, a beloved family tradition is the breaking of the oplatek on Christmas Eve. Oplatek is a thin wafer made from flour and water similar in taste and consistency to the hosts that are used for communion during Mass. Oplatki are often stamped with an elaborate Christmas scene.

Historically, these would be distributed by the church to parishioners' homes during the Advent season. The Christmas wafer is shared before Wigilia, the Christmas Eve supper. Wigilia comes from the Latin word "vigilare" which means to wait.

The oplatek is meant to remind families of the Eucharistic bread at Mass and makes a further connection between Christmas and the gift of the Eucharist, the presence of God among us.

St. Joan of Arc Circle presents our 1st Annual Christmas Ornament.

We are grateful for the wonderful response and have ordered additional ornaments for delivery before Christmas.

They can be purchased for $20 (cash or check made payable to Annunciation Catholic Church.)

St. Martin of Tours, Bishop – November 11

"A conscientious objector who wanted to be a monk; a monk who was maneuvered into being a bishop; a bishop who fought paganism as well as pleaded for mercy to heretics; such was Martin of Tours, one of the most popular of saints." (Saint of the Day, ed. by Leonard Foley, OFM, v.2, p. 142).

Born in Pannonia (Hungary), Martin was the son of a pagan military officer. At age 15, he was inducted into military service against his will. Legend has it that in the year 337 on a cold day, he cut his military cloak in half and shared it with a beggar, and that evening he had a vision of Jesus wearing the piece of his cloak. Martin became a Christian, refused to engage in any more military activity, and was honorably discharged.

He became a monk and spent several years preaching to pagans and heretics. After some time, he placed himself under the direction of St. Hilary of Poitiers and gathered together others interested in a monastic life.

Reluctantly, he acceded to the wish of the people and became Bishop of Tours about the year 371. Zealous in his pastoral office he went about making and keeping peace. He was gentle in dealing with all and particularly appealed for gentleness in dealing with heretics. His hope was always to win them over to the truth. Martin endured opposition because of his goodness.

The Responsorial to the Second Reading in the Office of Readings acknowledges these pastoral traits: "Happy this man who did not deceive, nor judge, nor condemn anyone. He spoke only of Christ, of His peace and His mercy. Here is a man whom words cannot adequately describe."

And the Antiphon at the Magnificat in Evening Prayer reads: "This blessed bishop loved Christ with all his strength and had no fear of earthly rulers; though he did not die a martyr's death, this holy confessor won the martyr's palm."

Have you met Coogie the Dumpster Cat?

As a kitten in 2017, he was abandoned in a Miami dumpster and brought to me by a friend who knew I rescued strays. Now, he is the STAR of his own children's book series that I am writing and donating my profits to charity.

As his fate would have it, Coogie was most likely born on July 7th, the day my late husband went to Heaven. I truly believe he was sent to help me through that incredible loss.

Now, together, we are "paying it forward" to help others.
