Reflections from the Heart by Fr. Ivan

“O LORD, you are our father: we are all the work of your hands.” Recently, God wanted me to share with a group gathered in prayer, God’s profound desire for us to become better listeners to his Word, speaking the truth of God’s profound love for us directly to our own ears and directly to our own hearts. God shared that we can become better listeners and hearers of his word and message, his response and grace when we stop listening to the lies of others and begin to be honest about what we say and do. He wants us to pay more attention to what we are saying and to stop judging and speaking ill and false things about others and ourselves. The Lord invites us to hear what the Father has to say, what he has spoken and what God continues to say to us through his beloved Son, Jesus; God’s Word wonderfully manifested in our midst taking flesh and being born of the Virgin and coming to us and remaining with us in scripture, sacrament, priest and Eucharist. We are invited in a particular way this season to become gracious hearers of God’s Word and not be drowned by our own need to be heard, for what God has to say is ever so important, more important than what we have to say. God’s Word is a lifesaving remedy, a life-giving gift to us. There is a sense of urgency in God’s word and desire, for we are time bound and limited in days, while God’s message is timeless and urgent in spiritual nature. For we are all dying and fading away but God wills and wants us to live forever, so listen up. Listen carefully that what you are thinking and asking yourself, is that an inspiration from God or a temptation from the enemy? Listen to your own words. Who talks like that? Are your words lifesaving and giving or do they disparage a person or suck the life out of others? God’s words encourage and lift us up. His words are like sunshine on a rainy, dreary day. His words inspire and give us hope. The enemy’s words take life and threaten life for they are ever so angry, hateful, malicious, self-centered and self-absorb. Do you speak like that? Listen to your heart. It is how God speaks to us. Truly from the heart. Words that are honest, good and true. The Lord said, “This is my beloved Son; listen to him.” You will be happy you did.

What is Your Catholic Legacy? To leave a legacy is to reveal our hearts, for our legacy is a final testament of who we are, what we value, and whom we love. Regardless of your age, circumstances, or economic status, we encourage you to begin thinking about the legacy you are creating with your life, your aspirations for what you wish to leave behind and the message you hope to share with your loved ones, your community, and your Church. Once you have provided for your family, we hope you will remember the many needs of your parish and our larger diocesan family, including our seminarians, retired priests and Catholic school students. St. Margaret of Scotland – November 16th

By Fr. Stephen Baumann

St. Margaret of Scotland (1046-1093) was Hungarian by birth, raised at the court of St. Stephen, King of Hungary, and later brought to England. Having to flee there after the Battle of Hastings, she was shipwrecked off the coast of Scotland. She and her family were welcomed by King Malcolm, whom Margaret married, four years later, about 1070 A.D.

Their married life was blessed; they had eight children. Margaret was able to help Malcolm be a virtuous king and she was his trusted advisor. Together they practiced austerities and were generous to the poor and needy, often ministering to them personally. Margaret took great personal interest in the religious and spiritual life of the people, urging synods to correct the prevalent abuses of simony (the buying and selling of church offices), usury (excessive interest charged on loans), and marriage between close relatives. Margaret died at Edinburgh in 1093, an ideal mother and queen.

St. Margaret's holiness in marriage is brought to mind through one of the readings in the Divine Office. From the Pastoral Constitution on the Church in the Modern World, of the Second Vatican Council, we read:

"Husband and wife, by the covenant of marriage, are no longer two, but one flesh. By their intimate union of persons and actions they give mutual help and service to each other, experiencing the meaning of their unity, and gain an ever deeper understanding of it day by day."

Also, "This intimate union in the mutual self-giving of two persons, as well as the good of the children, demands full fidelity from both, and an indissoluble unity between them."

"Christ the Lord has abundantly blessed this richly complex love, which springs from the divine source of love and is founded on the model of His union with the Church." (Gaudium et Spes, n.48).

St. Margaret of Scotland understood that being a truly fulfilled woman meant freedom to love God and to serve others. "May her example and prayers help us to become living signs of God's goodness." (Collect of Mass).

The Breaking of the Oplatek !

In many Polish homes throughout the world, a beloved family tradition is the breaking of the oplatek on Christmas Eve. Oplatek is a thin wafer made from flour and water similar in taste and consistency to the hosts that are used for communion during Mass. Oplatki are often stamped with an elaborate Christmas scene. Historically, these would be distributed by the church to parishioners' homes during the Advent season. The Christmas wafer is shared before Wigilia, the Christmas Eve supper. Wigilia comes from the Latin word "vigilare" which means to wait. The oplatek is meant to remind families of the Eucharistic bread at Mass and makes a further connection between Christmas and the gift of the Eucharist, the presence of God among us.

St. Joan of Arc Circle presents our 1st Annual Christmas Ornament.

We are grateful for the wonderful response and have ordered additional ornaments for delivery before Christmas.

They can be purchased for $20 (cash or check made payable to Annunciation Catholic Church.)
