Sunday of the Word of God

In the Introduction to the Lectionary for Mass, we are reminded of the role of the Word of God in the life of the Church: In the hearing of God's word the Church is built up and grows, and in the signs of the liturgical celebration God's wonderful, past works in the history of salvation are presented anew as mysterious realities. God in turn makes use of the congregation of the faithful that celebrates the Liturgy in order that his word may speed on and be glorified and that his name be exalted among the nations. Whenever, therefore, the Church, gathered by the Holy Spirit for liturgical celebration, announces and proclaims the word of God, she is aware of being a new people in whom the covenant made in the past is perfected and fulfilled. Baptism and confirmation in the Spirit have made all Christ's faithful into messengers of God's word because of the grace of hearing they have received. They must therefore be the bearers of the same word in the Church and in the world, at least by the witness of their lives. The word of God proclaimed in the celebration of God's mysteries does not only address present conditions but looks back to past events and forward to what is yet to come. Thus God's word shows us what we should hope for with such a longing that in this changing world our hearts will be set on the place where our true joys lie.

"Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, as in all wisdom you teach and admonish one another, singing psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs with gratitude in your hearts to God" (Colossians 3:16)

Reflections from the Heart by Fr. Ivan

"Guide me in your truth and teach me, for you are God my savior." Recently, the Lord placed such a lovely thought in my heart and such a great desire in my soul to learn more about prayer, to grow in the spiritual life and to live more devoutly in the way, the truth and the life God has destined and desires for me. I pray to grow in love, to increase in faith, to deepen in hope and to trust God with all the courage, confidence and strength of the saints. I need to learn how to become holy, how to be a good, faithful servant of God and the beloved child God needs me to be. I ponder where I can learn such treasures of the faith. I contemplate who will be able to teach me such gracious things. The happy thought comes to mind. The blessed desire, the holy inspiration, the good intention gives way to grace in my heart and God's response fills the depth of my soul. Who better to learn from than the Holy Family of Nazareth? With a smile on my heart and the joy of the saints, I ask God for the grace to enter, enroll, attend, and participate in the home school of Nazareth. I pray and ask Mary and Joseph to teach me what they taught Jesus. To learn from Mary and Joseph, how to love and trust God with all my heart, soul, strength and being. To learn how to love others, be patient with others, to forgive others from the heart, to pray for those who persecute me and even love my enemies. To learn the fruitfulness of the spiritual, contemplative life, to be disciplined and faithful to prayer, to avoid evil and be righteous, to honor the Lord with my body and give all glory and praise to God with my lips. To be holy and virtuous like Jesus. To be kind and compassionate like Jesus. To be spiritually poor and simple like Jesus. To be good and faithful like Jesus. To honor the Father in thought, word and works like Jesus. To be the good leader, the good shepherd, the good friend God created me to be in Jesus. I hope to learn from Jesus the grace and necessity to actively submit and remain surrendered to God's will. I need to learn to say like Jesus, "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do." "Father, into your hands I commend my spirit." "Father, not my will but yours be done."

Join your fellow parishioners exploring this milestone document on six Thursday evenings in the new year.

St Fabian, Pope and Martyr – January 20

Pillars of Faith

By Fr. Stephen Baumann

The early Church during the time of the persecutions was strengthened by the courage and constancy of the martyrs.

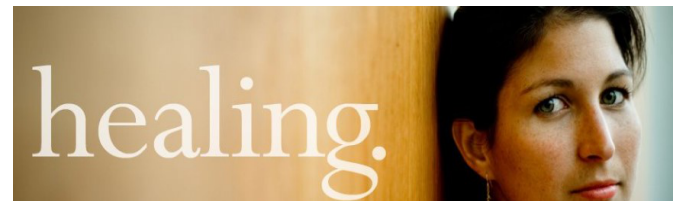

These martyrs give us firm roots in the past. They are those who "have gone before us marked with the sign of faith." (Eucharistic Prayer I).

St. Cyprian, in a letter, tells of Fabian's martyrdom in the persecution of Decius in the year 250. "I was quite happy that his virtuous demise corresponded with the integrity of his administration."

Fabian was a layman when elected pope in the year 236. The Church historian, Eusebius, tells us that he came into the city of Rome from his farm while the election was in progress, and that a dove settled on his head leading the clergy and people to choose him to be Bishop of Rome. He was pope for fourteen years, but we know little of those years. Yet, Fabian left an impression as a holy man. St. Cyprian wrote to Fabian's successor, St. Cornelius, that he was an incomparable man, whose glory in death matched his holiness of life.

In the letter about Fabian's death, (our Second Reading today in the Office of Readings), Cyprian wrote that his death was "an example of faith and courage," and that "it is helpful and encouraging when a bishop offers himself as a model for his brothers by the constancy of his faith."

So we pray that St. Fabian "help us to share his faith and offer God loving service." (Collect of Mass).

Coogie
THE Dumpster Cat

Christmas may be over...but thousands of animals are still in need of rescue!

"Coogie, the Dumpster Cat"

A delightful story about a kitten rescued from a Miami dumpster. Coogie is "paying it forward" now to help his fur-friends. By purchasing a copy (or more) you will be contributing to saving fur-lives.

Profits go towards helping all animals find their "fur-ever" homes!

Learn more about Coogie at Coogiedumpstercat.com and order your books today to help another desperate animal in need. At Amazon.com or bookstores nationwide.
