Our Catholic Appeal Prayer

O Lord, we praise You for the many gifts You give us each day; from the moment we were a presence in our mother's womb to the grace-filled rise of the sun, to the blessing of Sacrament, to the night which ushers us rest. Help us to grow in our living faith. Guide us to serve as leaders to bring about holiness. Bring us to share ourselves selflessly in all things in a spirit of love of You. In the Eucharistic banquet, You give Yourself completely and entirely to us. We give You our return, O Lord, with gratitude knowing there is no measure to the gift of the Cross which brings us resurrection.

Reflections from the Heart by Fr. Ivan

"Praise the Lord, who heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds." The gospels often speak to us about Jesus rising very early in the morning, even before dawn, to find a quiet, deserted place without noise or distraction to pray and quietly be with the Father. It is at the heart of who Jesus is. His identity, his nature, the core of his being to be in union with the Father always and in all things. The priority of Jesus is to relate and remain with the Father in and during every thought, word, miracle or ministry. Jesus was in prayer with the Father prior to any thought, during every conversation on earth, after every miracle in Cana and throughout his ministry in Galilee, Jesus remained in prayer and communion with the Father. Prayer permits us the distinct privilege of relating our true and inmost thoughts, words, feelings and desires to the Father. Not watered down or diminished by pride or fear, not reduced or inflated by ego or misconceptions, not left out or disguised by hurt or impatience but every thought, feeling and desire is heard and related to the Father as it really is without alloy or pretense. God sees and hears the real you. If we pray like Jesus, if we join the prayer with Jesus, if we listen and learn to how Jesus prays and speaks to the Father, we can learn who we really are and become our true self in and through prayer. The kind of prayer, which is eager and hungry like Jesus to rise very early in the morning, even before dawn, with the deepest desire to pray and remain in prayer with the Father throughout the day and even throughout the night as we sleep. The kind of prayer where God, the Divine Physician, the healer of mind, body and soul hears and reveals our inmost aches and hurts then heals them. God desires unity with us in and through prayer, revealing himself, sharing himself and relating himself through Jesus. God desires to be known, to be heard, to be welcomed and received only for our own benefit, to flood us with the truest joy and divine happiness for eternity. However, like any physician or doctor, our Lord needs your permission to heal and restore you to good health and to his loving friendship. Imagine God, in his infinite love and divine mercy, needs your permission to treat you well. How amazingly profound. We need God's assistance but we must pray to ask for it.

St Angela Merici, Virgin - January 27

Orphaned at age 10, Angela was raised by an uncle, and by age 13 she was living an austere life as a Franciscan tertiary. After the death of her uncle, she took an interest in the education of poor children. She realized that the education of young girls among the poor was especially neglected.

Angela gathered around her a group of young women who shared her ideals and interests. The number soon grew to 28 and on November 25, 1535 they dedicated themselves to God under the protection of St. Ursula. They continued to live at home, without vows, but observed the evangelical counsels of poverty, chastity, and obedience. Their purpose from the beginning was to provide for the religious education of girls, especially among the poor. They also hoped to re-Christianize their families as these girls grew up to be wives and mothers.

The company of St. Ursula became a religious congregation only several years after the death of Angela, who died in the year 1540. The group became the Congregation of St. Ursula four years later with the approval of Pope Paul III.

In her Spiritual Testament, St. Angela wrote:

"A good tree, that is, a good heart as well as a soul inflamed with charity, can do nothing but good and holy works. For this reason, St. Augustine said: "Love and do what you will, namely, possess love and charity and then do what you will. It is as if he had said: Charity is not able to sin." (2nd Reading, Liturgy of the Hours).

The gentle character of St. Angela can be appreciated in another passage from her same "Testament."

"You ought also to exercise pleasantness toward all, taking great care especially that what you have commanded may never be done by reason of force. For God has given free will to everyone, and therefore he forces no one but only indicates, calls, persuades. Sometimes, however, something will have to be done with a stronger command, yet in a suitable manner and according to the state and necessities of individuals; but then we should be impelled only by charity and zeal for souls. (Second Reading, Liturgy of the Hours).
