"The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.
Amen, amen,
I say to you,
unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies,
it remains just
a grain of wheat;
but if it dies,
it produces much fruit."

Praying for deceased priests in the Diocese of Orlando for March

March 18, 1991 – Rev. Paul Kajdan
 March 22, 2023 – Rev. John Ryan
 March 20, 1982 – Rev. Thomas Gross
 March 25, 1978 – Rev. Sean P. Molloy
 March 22, 1972 – Msgr. Martin B. Power

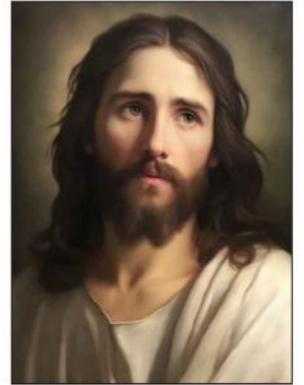

Our Elect participate in the final Scrutiny at the 12noon Mass this weekend before the Easter Vigil. Please continue to keep them in your prayers.

Question: What are Scrutinies?

Answer: The Scrutinies are important and special rites of the Church celebrated on the Third, Fourth and Fifth Sundays of Lent, by those people who are preparing to be baptized at Easter, known as "The Elect". The Scrutinies are celebrated in order to deliver the elect from the power of sin and Satan, to protect them against temptation, and to give them strength in Christ, who is the way, the truth and the life. The Gospels, from the "A" cycle, on the three Sundays on which the Scrutinies are celebrated teach the elect about the mystery of sin, and fill them with the Spirit of Christ. Thank you for keeping our Elect in your prayers.

Reflections from the Heart by Fr. Ivan

"Sir, we would like to see Jesus." At the deepest core of our human existence, exists a desire, a silent intention whether good or bad. The desire exists and breathes in the very deepest recesses of our humanity, waiting to be awakened, to surface, to be birthed into action or inaction. Desires, fanned into a flame, ignited by a passion within us, become words or phrases, positive or negative that can give light and inspire some or discourage others and give way to darkness. Desires want to take action quickly. They cannot wait, they are impatient that way. Not really thinking or discerning God's good will but rather by selfish impulse, our desires can lead us to react quickly without thought or hesitation. We tend to react rather than taking a moment to think, pray and respond appropriately to the person or situation. At times, we react so quickly, we fail to have a good understanding of how our decisions can affect possible outcomes or even consider the repercussions our choices can cause, we do not give it a second thought. Our choices can bring hurt to some, destruction to others, difficulty to family and can even offend ourselves. Reactions can cause us to watch or stand by idle, to do nothing or go all the way without concern, remorse, or rationality. Desires are formed first in our conscience. It all begins with a thought. Desires can begin with an inspiration by the Holy Spirit or instigated by an evil spirit. Our Lord influences our thoughts by his good holy intention for us. Contrarily, the enemy tempts our thoughts and incites us to delve into our past memories. He causes us to desire to seek ways to remember hurtful thoughts and recollect our failures. The enemy entraps us in thought finding more ways for us to desire criticism and ways of judging others harshly, friends and foes alike, those we love and those we love to hate. The enemy twists our thoughts into disordered feelings that further develop into sinful desires, then into sinful acts, harsh words, and more terrible thoughts. The enemy hides in the shadows of our thoughts and darkens our mind. He waits for an opportunity to confuse us and trip us up so he can push us away from good intentions and watch us fall from grace. He keeps us pinned to the ground without any desire to help us or make us desire to stand back up again. God inspires happy thoughts and holy desires. He lifts us up again.

Pillars of Faith

By Fr. Stephen
Baumann

St Patrick, Bishop - March 17th - Details of St. Patrick's life are few and uncertain, though legends abound. Patrick was born in Scotland, England, or perhaps Gaul (France) in the year 385. Along with some slaves of his father, he was captured and taken to Ireland and sold as a slave. However, he escaped to Gaul and made his way back home. His preparations for priesthood seemed to have been in Gaul, at Lerins. He was ordained in 417 and remained in Gaul for fifteen years. Consecrated a bishop in 432, he went to Ireland and began to preach throughout the country, with great success. In his Confessions, he wrote: "I came to the Irish people to preach the Gospel and to endure the taunts of unbelievers putting up with reproaches about my earthly pilgrimage, suffering many persecutions, even bondage, and losing my birthright of freedom for the benefit of others. If I am worthy, I am ready also to give up my life without hesitation and most willingly, for His Name."

Patrick made himself one of the people, he lived, simply, learned their language and customs, and respected their religious genius. The people, for their part, were open to him and his challenging preaching. Patrick's efforts were so successful that within a century Irish monks were Christianizing Europe, and introducing what he called spiritual direction, but really was the first individual confessions, soon to become very popular. The foundation of St. Patrick's strength was a deep sense of the presence of God and his constant prayer.

St. Patrick lived with the people and ever so gently brought them to Faith, challenging them to grow in knowledge and experience. Because of the island's pagan background, Patrick dealt with practical challenges, including the encouragement of widows to remain chaste, unless they remarried, and young women to dedicate their virginity to God. When one considers the enormity of the mission that St. Patrick undertook, with its conversion of vast numbers of people to the Faith, he must have been a pretty dynamic person, and one whose holiness made an impression. The Holy Spirit multiplied and blessed his mission many times over.

While it may be legend that St. Patrick drove all the snakes out of Ireland, his simple teaching on the Trinity, using the three leaves of the shamrock was highly effective. Patrick departed the "land of saints and scholars" in the year 493.
