A Letter from the Pastor - Fr. Matthew

Coming back home to Annunciation last week was a very moving and, admittedly, overwhelming experience. The size of the church, the number of people, and the marble are a far cry from the small town feel of my parish in Leesburg. But above all, the warm response of the parishioners here, filled my heart to overflowing.

I am the product of two clashing cultures (think of the movie - My Big Fat Greek Wedding). My father is a southern boy from the Florida panhandle, raised on a farm and attending a Pentecostal Assemblies of God church. On that side of the family, a firm handshake is the height of affection. My mother is a northern girl from Boston, raised as an Orthodox Christian in the midst of a large Lebanese family. On that side, everyone is a cousin and even first time introductions are accompanied by exuberant hugs and kisses. In complexion, I take after my mother, but in temperament my father. Sunday, my introversion was stretched to its limits...and it was good.

This weekend we celebrate the great Solemnity of Pentecost. It marks the manifestation of the nascent Church, the spreading of God's Kingdom. The band of Apostles, called from their humble beginnings, are now charged to powerfully proclaim to the ends of the earth the Good News of mercy and reconciliation with the Father, gathering all people into the Body of Christ. A task that stretches them well beyond their limits, well beyond their natural dispositions, well beyond their innate abilities. It is only by the gift of the Holy Spirit Who descends upon them like tongues of fire that they are able to do what would otherwise be too much for them. Once inflamed with the love of God, they cannot help but go forth to ignite the world.

Record numbers of people (young people in particular) coming into the Church this past Easter is evidence that the world is ready and waiting to be set afire. Other sparks offered by contemporary culture have tried but failed to catch. Every Pentecost is a fresh outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon present day apostles, upon those to be sent into the world to proclaim the Good News through words and works to people hungering to hear. Who are those present day apostles? You who have been Baptized and Confirmed. Think that it will stretch you to your limits? Yeah, you're probably right. But you give God your 'yes' and He will give you His Spirit.

How can we pray for you?

Everyday life can be challenging and we want to pray for your intentions. We will pray for each specific intention that you submit.

Submit your intentions at:
www.annunciationorlando.org/prayer-intentions

We welcome three seminarians that will be in residence with us this summer as they work at Catholic Charities. In order: Jonathan Arias, Dakota Milborn and Gavin Foreman.

REFLECTION ON THE GOSPEL

And suddenly there came from the sky a noise like a strong driving wind, and it filled the entire house in which they were. Then there appeared to them tongues as of fire, which parted and came to rest on each one of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in different tongues, as the Spirit enabled them to proclaim. Acts 2:2-4

Happy birthday! Today, as we celebrate the coming of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost, we also celebrate the birth of the Church. Thus, today is a celebration of your membership in the life of the Church. As a human institution, the Church has always suffered on account of the sins of Her members. This sad truth is something that we are increasingly aware of today. But the Church itself is the Spotless Bride of Christ. It is the Body of Christ on earth, in Heaven and in Purgatory. Those of us on earth are members of the Church Militant. Those in Heaven are members of the Church Triumphant. And those in Purgatory are members of the Church Suffering. But all of us are united under Christ our Head as members of His holy Body, the Church.

We profess our faith in the Church every Sunday. We profess that we believe in "one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church." What exactly does this mean? First, it means that by the power and working of the Holy Spirit, those who profess faith in Christ are united as "one." This oneness is a spiritual union that will endure for eternity. It is unbreakable and restores us to the life we were created to live. That is, a life of union with God and others, a communion of humanity with God.

As one family, the Church is also "holy." Holiness is another way of saying that we are made whole by the blood of Christ, sharing in His redemption. By His mercy, our sins are forgiven and we become children of the Father in Heaven, sharing the eternal life of the Son. The word "catholic" refers to the truth that the offer of salvation is given to all. It is a universal calling given to all people who will accept this gift. God did not come to save only a few but all, and many will accept this gift of salvation.

We are "apostolic," in that God chose to establish His Church through the mediation of His Apostles. They were uniquely called to become instruments by which the saving Truth is proclaimed and the grace won by the Cross is distributed. The work of the Apostles continues today through their successors, the bishops, and those who are co-workers with the bishops, the priests. Sinful though they may be, God uses them, nonetheless, to bestow His grace and truth upon the world.

As a member of the one Body of Christ, you are also invited by God to enlarge His family through the sharing of the Gospel and by your life of deep prayer. You are called and sent, and this takes place by the outpouring of the Holy Spirit that we especially celebrate today.

Sts. Marcellinus and Peter, Martyrs

An indication of the esteem in which the fourth century martyrs, Marcellinus and Peter, are held in the Roman Church is the fact that they are mentioned in Eucharistic Prayer I, the Roman Canon. Marcellinus was a priest, and Peter an exorcist. They were beheaded in the first years of the fourth century, probably in 303, for making converts to Christianity.

A thought as we commemorate these martyrs is found in the Office of Readings. It is from an Exhortation to Martyrdom by Origen: "We should be extremely eager to share in Christ's sufferings and to let them be multiplied in us if we desire the superabundant consolation that will be given to those who mourn. This consolation will not perhaps be the same for all, for if it were, Scripture would not say: "The more we share in the sufferings of Christ, the more we will share in his consolation." (Cf. 2 Cor. 1:7). Sharing in his consolation will be proportionate to our sharing in his sufferings, according to St. Paul, and Origen continues:

"In Christ and with Christ the martyrs disarm the principalities and powers and share in his triumph over them, for their share in Christ's sufferings makes them sharers also in the mighty deeds those sufferings accomplished." (Origen, Op. Cit.).
