Holy Father's Prayer Intentions

For our relationship with all of creation

Let us pray that, inspired by Saint Francis, we might experience our interdependence with all creatures who are loved by God and worthy of love and respect.

May the elderly be cherished and honored in their families and society.

PRAYER FOR THE FIFTH WORLD DAY FOR GRANDPARENTS AND THE ELDERLY

'Blessed are those who have not lost hope' (Sir 14:2) How beautiful are these words of yours, Lord! Help us to continue our pilgrimage through time, animated by the hope that comes from You! Help us in this divisive world, to bring the hope of communion. Help us in this world, wounded by wars, to bring the hope of peace. Help us in this world, which is dehumanizing, to bring the beauty of an ancient smile. Help us to be, for our grandchildren, for our loved ones and for everyone we meet, the memory of your tenderness. Help us to bring, in a world distracted from You, the Hope of a new life that only You can give! For in You, Lord, nothing is lost For in You, Lord, everything begins again!
Amen.

REFLECTION ON THE GOSPEL

Great crowds were traveling with Jesus, and he turned and addressed them, "If anyone comes to me without hating his father and mother, wife and children, brothers and sisters, and even his own life, he cannot be my disciple." Luke 14:25-26

Why would Jesus exhort the "great crowds" to hate their families? In fact, Jesus went even further than that. He said they must also hate their own lives. If they do not, then they cannot be His disciples. One thing that this shocking teaching did was to shake people out of their lukewarm faith. Sometimes we think of Jesus only as a kind and gentle soul who always brightens people's days. We see images painted of the smiling Jesus who always made people feel welcomed and loved. And though these images have truth, it is also true that one way He brightened their days was by challenging them to the core of their being to convert. And that is what Jesus does today in our Gospel.

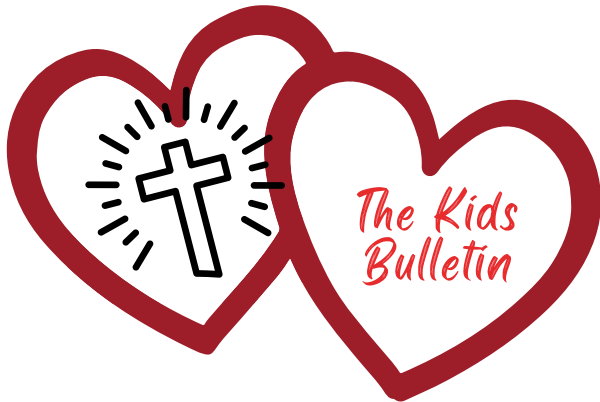

To hate your father, mother, children, siblings and even your very self is obviously not a reference to the sin of hate that flows from anger. In this case, the word "hate" refers to the best way to love others and to love even your own self. To begin, let's look at the conclusion. Jesus said that this form of hate is a requirement of being His disciple. This is the key. Unless we are first and foremost a disciple of Christ, we cannot love others and we will not even love ourselves in the proper way. "Hate" in this context refers to selfish attachments. This means that people and things can easily get in the way of our love of God. When they do, we must see them as an obstacle to both the love of God, as well as to the authentic love of others and even ourselves. For example, if a family member were to demand in some way that you love them more than you love God, then this must be rejected with passion. This could be referred to as holy hatred of the temptation, not the person. Say a spouse criticizes you for attending Mass and tries to stop you from doing so. If you listen to them, then you are placing them before God. Or say someone hurts you and you choose to forgive them, only to have a family member challenge you and try to stir up anger in you toward that person. If you listen to them, then you are not listening to God. In these cases, we must "hate" in the sense that we reject the temptation.

What about yourself? How do you hate yourself? This is a reference to the many ways that our disordered appetites are drawn to sin. If we indulge in the disordered desires, or even worse, if we treat those disordered desires as normal and good for us, then we have chosen the disordered desire over God. In that case, we must learn to hate and reject the selfish and disordered desire, choosing God and His will alone.

When we are able to choose the love of God first and foremost in our lives, rejecting the temptations that come through others and even the temptations within our disordered desires, then, and only then, are we in a position to love others and ourselves, in the right way. Jesus obviously wants us to love others and ourselves. But this is only possible when our love is pure and holy and flows from the love of God. Any other form of "love" is not love at all. It is a selfish attachment that hinders our true mission as lovers of God and instruments of that love to others.

GROW IN YOUR FAITH

Love God First

Jesus told the crowds that they must “hate” their families and even their own lives to follow Him. This sounds strange, but Jesus was not talking about the bad kind of hate that comes from anger. He was teaching that we must love God first, even more than our families or ourselves.

Sometimes people or our own desires can lead us away from God. When that happens, we must reject those temptations. For example, if someone tries to stop us from going to Mass or forgiving others, we must choose God instead.

“Hating” ourselves means saying no to selfish wants that are not good for us. When we put God first, we learn how to truly love others and ourselves in the right way.

Think today about how strong we must be to say “no” to sin. Sometimes sin comes through family or friends, and sometimes it comes from our own selfish desires. When we reject these temptations, it is really an act of love, because it clears the way to love God, others, and even ourselves more. Choose to follow Jesus first, and your love will grow.

St. Augustine, Bishop and Doctor – August 28 - Part 1

"Late have I loved you, O Beauty ever ancient, ever new, late have I loved you! You were within me, but I was outside, and it was there that I searched for you. In my unloveliness I plunged into the lovely things which you created. You were with me, but I was not with you. Created things kept me from you; yet if they had not been in you they would not have been at all. You called, you shouted, and you broke through my deafness. You flashed, you shone, and you dispelled my blindness. You breathed your fragrance on me; I drew not breath and now I pant for you. I have tasted you, now I hunger and thirst for more. You touched me, and I burned for your peace." (From the Confessions of St. Augustine).

"Augustine is undoubtedly one of the greatest of the Church Fathers and one of the great geniuses of humanity, whose influence on posterity has been continuous and profound." (A. Trape, in Patrology, v.4, p. 343, ed. by Angelo DiBerardino). He was a philosopher, theologian, mystic, poet, writer, orator, and saint.

Born in 354 in Numidia, probably African by race as well as by birth, he was thoroughly Roman "by language, culture and persuasion." He received a Christian education from his mother, Monica, but did not receive Baptism. At age 19 he abandoned Christianity and was even anti-Catholic for a time. He became a teacher of grammar and rhetoric, and for this reason moved to Rome and eventually to Milan. His conversion to Christianity was a long odyssey, and a time of true intellectual searching. The final spark was supplied by the preaching of St. Ambrose, the bishop of Milan. Throughout it all Monica prayed continuously. The final struggle was the choice of how to best live the Christian ideal of wisdom.

By the latter part of the year 384 he sought instruction from St. Ambrose and the following Easter he was baptized. By then he was 33 years old and a short time later his mother died, her prayers answered. (continued next week.)

The Boy from Milan

You may have heard of him, the sneaker-wearing, computer-loving "gamer saint" of our time. But beyond the headlines and hashtags, the real story of Carlo is something deeper, something the world desperately needs to hear. Known for his deep love of God, devotion to the Eucharist, and quiet acts of charity, Carlo's life was a testament to everyday holiness.

St. John Chrysostom | Catholic Saints

From Antioch, the political center of the fifth-century world, arose a golden-tongued preacher and bishop: St. John Chrysostom. Listen to Dr. Carl Vennerstrom and Mary McGeehan discuss the life and preaching of this great doctor of the Church who gave us countless powerful prayers and homilies.

Carlo Acutis: God's Influencer

"Carlo Acutis: God's Influencer" is a beautifully animated film that brings to life the inspiring story of Carlo Acutis, a modern teenager who used his passion for technology to share the Catholic faith with the world.
