REFLECTION ON THE GOSPEL

"Before all this happens, however, they will seize and persecute you, they will hand you over to the synagogues and to prisons, and they will have you led before kings and governors because of my name. It will lead to your giving testimony. Remember, you are not to prepare your defense beforehand, for I myself shall give you a wisdom in speaking that all your adversaries will be powerless to resist or refute."

Luke 21:12-15

It could be said that these are among the least consoling words Jesus ever spoke. Imagine what His disciples thought upon hearing them. Some might have questioned continuing to follow Him. Why would anyone want to be seized, persecuted, thrown into prison, or even put to death?

Though these words do not seem consoling at first, they are inspired and therefore meant to strengthen us. By analogy, think of an army general preparing troops to defend their families and homeland. If he warns that some will be captured or killed, it is a sobering reality, but it also awakens courage. Honest words like these steady the soldiers and strengthen their resolve to enter the battle.

We must hear Jesus' words as His battle cry meant to encourage us. He warns that the secular and unchristian world will be hostile. The devil, with his legion of demons and followers, is active and seeks to destroy us. We must decide whether we will retreat and hide or step forward into the battle for the salvation of souls.

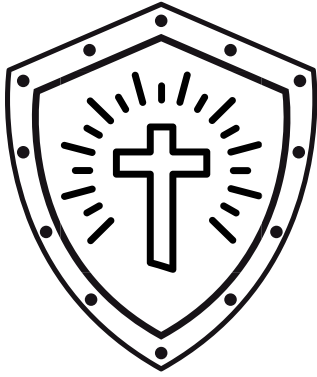

Most of us will not face physical martyrdom, though some will. But many endure a quieter persecution. We may be mocked or disliked for refusing to accept cultural immorality. We may be labeled superstitious or old fashioned for remaining faithful to Sunday worship and daily prayer. And we may seem out-of-touch for resisting fleeting fads and secular values. Sometimes this opposition comes from within our own family.

Instead of shying away from these forms of persecution, we must allow Jesus to stir up a courage rooted in love. We must desire the salvation of every soul and remain convinced that fidelity to Christ is the only path to that salvation.

When challenged by others or by the world, trust Jesus' promise: "I myself shall give you a wisdom in speaking that all your adversaries will be powerless to resist or refute." When we refute the errors of our age, some will become hostile. But if we speak by His inspiration, those words will still bear fruit. Since Jesus assures us that our Spirit-led words cannot ultimately be resisted or refuted, we must be confident that they matter in the battle for souls. We must engage that battle with courage, love, and trust in His lead.

GROW IN YOUR FAITH

The Kids Bulletin

Stand Strong With Jesus

Jesus said some hard things. He told His friends that people might be unkind to them, or even try to hurt them. This was scary to hear, and some people may have wanted to walk away. No one wants to be treated badly.

But Jesus spoke these words to make His friends strong. It is like a leader talking to soldiers before a hard job. The leader tells the truth so the soldiers can be brave and ready.

Jesus wants us to be brave, too. He knows some people in the world will not like our faith. The devil tries to turn people away from God, and we must choose if we will hide or stand strong with Jesus.

Most of us will not be hurt for our faith, but people may laugh at us or say we are wrong. They may not like it when we protect babies, pray every day, or follow Jesus instead of new trends. Sometimes even our own families may not understand.

Jesus asks us not to be afraid. He wants to fill our hearts with love and courage. We want every person to know God and be saved, and we stay close to Jesus to help make that happen.

When others challenge us, Jesus promises to help us. He says He will give us the right words to say. Some people may get upset, but our words can still help their hearts. With Jesus leading us, we speak with love and stand strong in the battle for souls.

From both a Catholic and mental health perspective, they are part of how God made us, they are signals that invite us to stop, pay attention and make intentional choices. This talk will help you see difficult feelings in a new light, so instead of dreading them, you can learn to use them to help you make informed fruitful choices in your life."

MADELINE WHITE
YOUTH MINISTER

St. Leo the Great, Pope and Doctor – November 10

Pope St. Leo the Great was elected in the year 440 and guided the Church through a most difficult period of its history. The Western Roman Empire was subjected to invasions by the barbarians. It was a time during which "traditional orthodoxy was imposed, fixed formulae and precise canons were giving a definite cast to liturgical and disciplinary life, and theology was defining its position on the fundamental questions of the Incarnation and the relation of divine grace and human freedom."

We know little of his personal life, but we know he was held in great esteem prior to his election as Bishop of Rome. As the bishop he preached often and his homilies are classic instructions on the mysteries of Christ. In them, he encourages the faithful "to live their Baptism in imitation of Jesus and to preserve their faith from the danger of heresies."

Through his writing and preaching he made lasting contributions to the definition of doctrine, to an understanding of the Church's law, and to the development of the Roman liturgy. His homilies and letters are the chief sources for coming to an appreciation of this talented, competent Bishop of Rome.

The Collect of the Mass also gives us an indication of the appreciation of the Church for this great pontiff: "O God, who never allow the gates of hell to prevail against your Church, firmly founded on the apostolic rock, grant her, we pray, that through the intercession of Pope Saint Leo, she may stand firm in your truth and know the protection of lasting peace."

The introductory note in the Liturgy of the Hours states: "He was a true pastor and father of souls. He labored strenuously to safeguard the integrity of the Faith and vigorously defended the unity of the Church. He pushed back or at least softened the onrush of the barbarians. He has deservedly won the title "the Great." He died in 461 A.D.
