Reflection on the Gospel

It must have been shocking to Jesus' listeners the first time He boldly proclaimed that He would give His flesh as spiritual food. Their reaction makes this clear: "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?" Jesus did not back down or soften what He had just proclaimed. Instead, He began a lengthy and direct discourse, starting with these words:

"Amen, amen, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you do not have life within you. Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him on the last day. For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me and I in him." (John 6:53-56)

What would you have thought had you been among the first hearers? We're told the people quarreled, indicating division. Some, we later read, murmured among themselves, saying: "This saying is hard; who can accept it?" And tragically, many of Jesus' disciples left Him and returned to their former way of life (cf. John 6:60-66).

Despite this apparent failure and loss of disciples, Jesus did not retract or revise His teaching. Instead, He turned to the Twelve and asked if they too wished to leave. Peter, with clarity and faith, responded with one of the most profound statements of discipleship in all of Scripture: "Master, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life. We have come to believe and are convinced that you are the Holy One of God" (cf. John 6:67-69).

In many ways, Peter's words are as important for us today as Jesus' own words introducing the Eucharist. Why? Because Peter shows us how to respond when we encounter divine mysteries beyond human understanding. The Eucharist is one of the most central of these mysteries.

Do you believe in the Eucharist? Do you believe that it is truly the flesh and blood of the Son of God—His Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity? Though many of us have learned this teaching from childhood and accept it on some level, few penetrate the depth of the mystery we behold at every Mass.

The Solemnity of Corpus Christi is our annual invitation to step back and reflect on what we believe—and how devoutly we participate in the Mass and receive Holy Communion. We need this reminder so that our worship and faith do not grow lax.

The Kids Bulletin

Holy Communion

Jesus said something that surprised many people. He told them that He would give Himself to them as food. Some people did not understand what He meant. They thought His teaching was too hard.

Many people walked away. But Peter stayed with Jesus. Peter said, "Lord, where would we go? You have the words of eternal life."

Peter did not understand everything Jesus said, but he trusted Him. He knew that Jesus was the Son of God.

Today, we believe what Jesus taught. At Mass, Jesus gives Himself to us in Holy Communion. The bread and wine become His Body and Blood. This is a great mystery and a special gift.

On the Feast of Corpus Christi, we thank Jesus for staying with us in the Eucharist. Every time we come to Mass, we can listen to Him, pray to Him, and receive His love in Holy Communion.

Pillars of Faith

by Fr. Stephen Baumann

St. Justin, Martyr

Justin was a philosopher and martyr, an important early second century apologist (defender of the Faith), and "one of the noblest personalities of early Christian literature." He is the "first ecclesiastical writer who attempts to build a bridge between Christianity and pagan philosophy." (J. Quasten, Patrology, v. 1, p. 196 & 198).

Justin pursued the truth, investigated many philosophies of his day, but found none of them convincing or satisfying. Therefore, his quest for truth led him to Christianity. He admired the strength shown by the martyrs when faced with death, and he wrote later "I both prayed and strove with all my might to be found a Christian." After his conversion, he devoted himself to the defense of the Christian faith.

An authentic account of his martyrdom is preserved, and we read it in the Second Lesson in the Liturgy of the Hours. Justin confessed his faith in Jesus Christ and answered questions put to him at his trial: "Yes, I am a Christian and I hope that I shall enter God's house if I suffer, for I know that God's favor is stored up until the end of the whole world for all who have lived good lives. No one who is right-thinking stoops from true worship to false worship. We do not offer sacrifice to idols."

Our first reading for Mass for his feast day (1 Cor. 1:18-25) asks: "Where is the wise man to be found? Where is the scribe? Where is the master of worldly argument? Has not God turned the wisdom of this world into folly?" St. Justin answered these questions and knew the truth. Justin understood "the sublime wisdom of Jesus Christ, rejected falsehood, and remained loyal to the faith." (Collect of Mass). He proclaimed it "without fear or shame." (Cf. Entrance Antiphon).

On this day, we pray for that same grace.

This Week on Formed

Week of June 07, 2026

Bread of Life: The Eucharist in Galilee

Christ's teaching about the Eucharist is the crescendo of Jesus' entire ministry: all his work in Galilee prepared for and pointed to the Eucharist. Join Dr. Tim Gray for an exciting five-part series about Jesus' teaching on the Eucharist.

Presence

Although the Eucharist appears to be simple bread and wine, it is actually the "source and summit" of the Christian life. Presence: The Mystery of the Eucharist explores the truth and beauty of Christ's real presence in the Eucharist, from its origins in Sacred Scripture, to its profound role in the life of the Church and her members. It is the crescendo of the entire story of salvation.
