Reflection on the Gospel

When the Pharisees heard that Jesus had silenced the Sadducees, they gathered together, and one of them, a scholar of the law tested him by asking, "Teacher, which commandment in the law is the greatest?" Matthew 22:34-36

The Law of Moses, found in the Torah—the first five books of our Old Testament—is traditionally said to contain 613 commandments: 248 positive ("dos") and 365 negative ("don'ts"). Among these laws, the rabbis debated which commandment was the greatest. So while the Pharisee who questioned Jesus was testing Him, his question may also have reflected a sincere desire for truth. Jesus responded with a twofold summary of the entire Law and the prophets: "You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind" and "You shall love your neighbor as yourself."

These two commandments also reflect the heart of the Lord's Prayer. After acknowledging God as our Father, we pray, "Hallowed be Thy name" and "Thy Kingdom come."

To hallow God's name is to give Him His due. God is holy, holy, holy. Our greatest duty is to glorify Him and love Him with all our heart, soul, and mind.

In Heaven, many of the petitions we now make will no longer be needed. We will not ask forgiveness, because we will be purified from sin. We will not pray for daily bread, because we will share in the eternal Banquet. We will not ask for protection from evil, because every trial will have been conquered in Christ.

But we will eternally fulfill the greatest commandment and the first petition of the Lord's Prayer. We will forever hallow God's name, crying out "holy, holy, holy," and loving Him with a purified and perfected love.

The second greatest commandment will also be fulfilled in Heaven, just as "Thy Kingdom come" will be fulfilled. We will share in God's glory and holiness with all our "neighbors"—the angels and saints. Our love of God will overflow into love of neighbor, and our love for one another will reflect our perfected love for Him.

Bishop Noonan Letter for October

Beloved Sisters and Brothers in Christ:

Grace and Peace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. St. Paul speaks to us today about praise of God, thanksgiving for all He receives from each one in His name, for through, with and in God, we receive hope for all time.

The month of October is noted for a number of names. It is the month of the Holy Rosary, placing our attention toward the fiat of our Blessed Mother and reflecting upon how we follow her example in drawing others to know, love and serve her Son, Jesus. During his pilgrimage to Lourdes last month, Pope Leo XIV said, "We will now pray the Angelus together, that simple and beautiful prayer which helps us each day to live in faithful obedience to God's will, following the example of the Virgin Mary ... It was here that the Immaculate Virgin appeared to St. Bernadette with the rosary and, as it were, guided her in prayer.

For this reason, today I invite all the faithful and all Christian communities to pray the holy rosary throughout the coming month of October, with the particular intention that wars may cease and that peace may be established among peoples in conflict. Let us accompany this prayer with concrete acts of penance and mercy, committing ourselves always to fostering dialogue and reconciliation.

The month of October is also known as Respect Life Month, again recalling the beautiful fiat of Mary to accept God's will and bear a son, Emmanuel, God with us. Mary is asked to give herself and her future history to "the Holy Spirit ... the power of the Most High." She risks everything for the sake of Jesus Christ. There are many of us who offer our lives to God, but only on our terms. Many of us still want control, so we place boundaries on the gifts we are given. Our Blessed Mother surrendered this control and offers docility to place her life completely at God's disposal. As we pray during Respect Life Month, we pray for all life, from conception to natural death, that we see the perfection of God in each person. Archbishop Fulton Sheen said, "Our freedom God leaves to us ... Because freedom is our own. It is the only perfect gift that we can make to God." Let us put aside any judgements and pray earnestly for all people, that each one may know the richness of God's love by our daily living.

Love God with All You Are

In today's Gospel, a man asks Jesus which commandment is the most important. Jesus tells him to love God with all his heart, soul, and mind. That means loving God with all that we are!

We can love God all day long. When we wake up, we can say, "God, I love You!" When we play, we can use kind words. When we have a hard choice to make, we can ask God to help us do what is right.

Our love for God can be part of all we do. At home, at school, or at play, we can give Him our whole heart.

Commandment: More Than a Rule

When we hear the word commandment, we often think of rules we must follow. But God's commandments are more than a list of dos and don'ts. They are loving instructions that show us how to live in right relationship with God and with one another. Jesus teaches that all the commandments are rooted in two great truths: love God with all your heart, soul, and mind, and love your neighbor as yourself. The Ten Commandments help us understand what that love looks like in everyday life. Following God's commandments is not simply about obeying rules; it is about putting our love into action.

Pillars of Faith

by Fr. Stephen Baumann

St. Anthony Claret, Bishop

Born in Spain, Anthony Maria Claret (1807-1870) is remembered primarily as a missionary and a preacher. He was also a prolific writer and a social reformer.

Ordained a priest in 1835, he dedicated the next ten years of his life to preaching retreats and missions in Spain. In 1849, he founded the Missionary Sons of the Immaculate Heart of Mary – the Claretians – to continue his missionary endeavors, preaching and writing. The following year, he was appointed Archbishop of Santiago, Cuba, where his efforts to bring about needed disciplinary reforms were bitterly opposed. At one point, an attempt was made on his life. Recalled to Spain in 1857, he devoted his energies to his missionary congregation and was spiritual advisor and confessor to Queen Isabella II. Together with the royal court, he was forced to flee during the revolution of 1868, and he died in exile in France in 1870, shortly after the First Vatican Council.

From his writings, we read: “The love of Christ arouses us, urges us to run, and to fly, lifted on the wings of holy zeal. The man who truly loves God also loves his neighbor. The truly zealous man is also one who loves, but he stands on a higher plane of love so that the more he is inflamed by love, the more urgently zeal drives him on... The zealous man desires and achieves all great things and he labors strenuously so that God may always be better known, loved and served in this world and in the life to come, for this holy love is without end.” (2nd Reading, Liturgy of the Hours).

We pray that we might imitate St. Anthony Claret's love and patience, and his zeal for the preaching of the Gospel as we all work for the growth of God's kingdom..
