Congratulations to Dr. Margaret Curran, Annunciation Catholic Academy's founding principal, on being honored at Bishop Moore's Legacy Gala.

We are deeply grateful for the vision, dedication, and faith she brought to building our school and establishing the tradition of excellence that continues to guide ACA today. Her commitment to Catholic values, high standards, and innovation laid a foundation that generations of Stars continue to build upon. Thank you, Dr. Curran, for the lasting legacy you have given our ACA family!

Reflection on the Gospel

On June 11, 1899, Pope Leo XIII consecrated the entire human race to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, an act he considered one of the most important of his pontificate. This consecration expressed the Church's belief that Christ's love and kingship extend beyond any one nation or people to embrace all humanity.

In the decades that followed, the world experienced tremendous upheaval. World War I brought suffering and uncertainty, while political movements and growing secularism challenged the place of faith in society. Many people began to question the role of God in their lives and in the world around them.

Recognizing these challenges, Pope Pius XI established the Feast of Christ the King in 1925. He wanted to remind the faithful that, despite the changing world, Jesus Christ remains Lord of all creation. His kingship is not defined by earthly power or political authority, but by truth, love, justice, and mercy. His Kingdom invites every person to discover the peace and hope that come from following Him.

As we celebrate this solemnity on the final Sunday of the Liturgical Year, we are invited to reflect on what it means to recognize Christ as King. His love reaches beyond borders, cultures, and differences in belief. Whether or not the world acknowledges Him, Christ remains the King of the Universe, calling all people into a relationship with Him.

Today's Gospel reminds us that one day we will stand before Christ and reflect upon how we have lived. Jesus speaks of a final judgment, but He also reveals something beautiful about His Kingdom: the importance of love expressed through our actions. When we feed the hungry, welcome the stranger, care for the sick, and reach out to those in need, we are serving Christ Himself.

His words, "Come, you who are blessed by my Father. Inherit the kingdom prepared for you," offer a beautiful promise of eternal life. At the same time, the Gospel reminds us that our choices matter. Christ, who knows every heart, will judge with perfect justice and mercy.

Recognizing Christ as King means allowing His teachings to shape our daily lives. His Kingdom grows whenever we choose kindness over indifference, forgiveness over resentment, and generosity over selfishness. We are called to bring His love into our families, communities, workplaces, and the wider world.

Jesus Is Our King

Today we celebrate Christ the King! Jesus is a King who loves everyone. He wants us to love others just as He loves us.

In today's Gospel, Jesus tells us that when we help someone in need, we are showing love to Him, too. When we share our food, help someone who is sick, or are kind to someone who is lonely, we are serving Jesus. Jesus does not ask us to do big things. Even small acts of love can make Him happy.

This week, try to do one kind thing for someone each day. When you show love to others, you are showing love to Jesus!

Catechesis Corner — The Liturgical Year

Did you know that the Church's new year begins with Advent, not January 1? The Liturgical Year is the Church's way of celebrating the life, death, Resurrection, and saving work of Jesus Christ throughout the year. Through seasons such as Advent, Christmas, Lent, Easter, and Ordinary Time, we are invited to grow closer to Christ and enter more deeply into the mysteries of our faith.

Today, we celebrate the Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe, which marks the final Sunday of the Liturgical Year. This feast reminds us that Christ is the beginning and end of all things and that His Kingdom of love, truth, and peace will last forever.

Next Sunday, we begin a new Liturgical Year with the First Sunday of Advent. As the Church's calendar begins again, we are reminded that our journey of faith is one of continual renewal, drawing us ever closer to Christ.

RENEWING OUR HOME. STRENGTHENING OUR MISSION.

Your Questions Answered – Campaign Planning Study FAQs

As Annunciation looks at ways to better serve our parish family and neighbors, we want to hear from you before deciding what comes next.

Beginning November 30, we will conduct a campaign planning study to gather parishioners' thoughts about our proposed projects and the possibility of a capital campaign. We have engaged the Steier Group, a Catholic fundraising firm, to guide the process.

You may have questions about what a planning study involves and what it could mean for Annunciation. Here are some answers.

Q. What is a campaign planning study?
A. A planning study is a way to gather feedback before deciding whether to move forward with a capital campaign. It helps us understand how parishioners feel about the proposed projects, which needs are most important and whether there is support for a fundraising effort.

Q. What will the study accomplish?
A. The study will help parish leaders:

- Identify which projects are most important to parishioners.
- Gather feedback and suggestions to improve our plans.
- Gauge support for a potential capital campaign.
- Identify potential volunteer leaders and determine a realistic fundraising goal.

The results will help us decide which projects to pursue, when to move forward and whether a campaign is the right next step.

Q. How long will the study take?
A. The study will begin November 30 and wrap up in mid-January. During that time, the Steier Group will gather feedback through personal interviews and surveys. Once the study is complete, the firm will share its findings with parish leadership.

Q. What is a capital campaign?
A. A capital campaign is a special fundraising effort to pay for major projects, such as building renovations, new facilities and other significant needs. Unlike regular offertory giving, which supports our ongoing parish operations, a capital campaign raises funds for specific projects over a set period of time.

Q. Are we definitely moving forward with a capital campaign?
A. Not yet. The planning study will help us determine whether a campaign is feasible and which projects parishioners believe should come first. No final decisions about project priorities, timing or fundraising goals have been made.

Q. What will I be asked to do?
A. We simply ask you to share your thoughts and keep Annunciation in your prayers. You may be invited to participate in a personal interview with a member of the Steier Group team or complete an online or mailed questionnaire. Your feedback is important, and we want to hear from as many parishioners as possible.

Thank you for taking part in this process and helping us make wise decisions about Annunciation's future. Together, we can renew our home and strengthen our mission for the next generation.

Join us this Advent on Hallow

This Advent, join Hallow as we journey through one of the greatest Christmas films of all time: It's a Wonderful Life. Over the 25 days leading up to Christmas, we'll walk with the film's main character, George Bailey, as he begins to open his eyes to the great beauty of his life and teaches us to do the same. Sister Miriam will lead us in prayer throughout the challenge, joined each week by Chris Pratt, Jonathan Roumie, Gary Sinise, and Fr. John Burns as we walk through the film's most beloved scenes. Together, we'll follow George's story and discover what film director Frank Capra found to be at the center of the film: "There is a radiance and glory in the darkness, could we but see, and to see we have only to look. I beseech you to look" (Friar Fra Giovanni).

Join millions in Hallow's Advent Pray25 Challenge: It's a Wonderful Life, starting Monday, November 30!

Pillars of Faith

by Fr. Stephen Baumann

St. Rose Philippine Duchesne

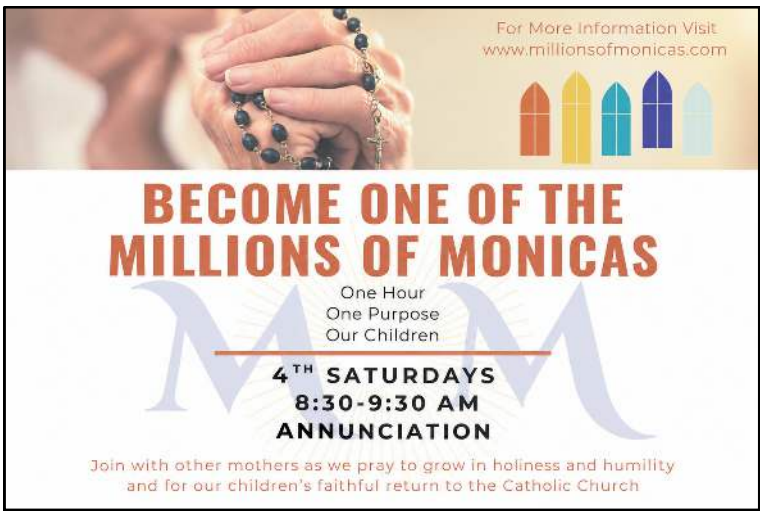

This week's saint is not as well known here in the South, but more so in the Midwest and the Northeast. "No greater saint ever died in Missouri or perhaps in the whole Union," wrote Fr. Pierre de Smet, SJ. He was speaking of St. Rose Philippine Duchesne (1769-1852), a Religious Sister of the Sacred Heart, and a pioneer missionary nun to our Mississippi Valley.

Born in Grenoble, France, she heard as a child stories from a Jesuit missionary to the Louisiana Territory about Indians. From that point on, the desire to work among the Native Americans was kindled. At age 17, she sought to enter the Visitation Convent, but the outbreak of the French Revolution and the expulsion of many Religious men and women from France prevented it. Only years later, at age 33, did she realize her desire to become a nun when she entered the Religious of the Sacred Heart, founded by St. Madeline Sophie Barat.

A few years later, she again became interested in the missions in North America, but it was to be several more years before she was able to lead a group of Sisters to the United States. In 1818, then 49 years old, she arrived in St. Louis, but Bishop Dubourg had no work for them among the Indians. So she and her Sisters settled in St. Louis and established a convent, a school and an orphanage for girls. She was also instrumental in founding six other convents along the Mississippi River between St. Louis and New Orleans.

Finally, at age 71 she got her wish and the opportunity to work among the Indians in Sugar Creek, Kansas. In an essay in the journal "Builders of America," Fr. Albert J. Nevins wrote that Mother Duchesne was too old to learn the Potawatomi language, so she spoke in the "international language of kindness and love." Since she could not teach in the native Indian language, she decided to pray for the success of her Sisters' work. She did that for so many long hours every day that the Indians named her "the Woman Who Always Prays," – quite a compliment!

During her last years, despite ill health, she continued to spend many hours in prayer and penitential practices. She died on November 18, 1852 at age of 83, in St. Charles, Missouri. She was canonized by Pope St. John Paul II in 1988.

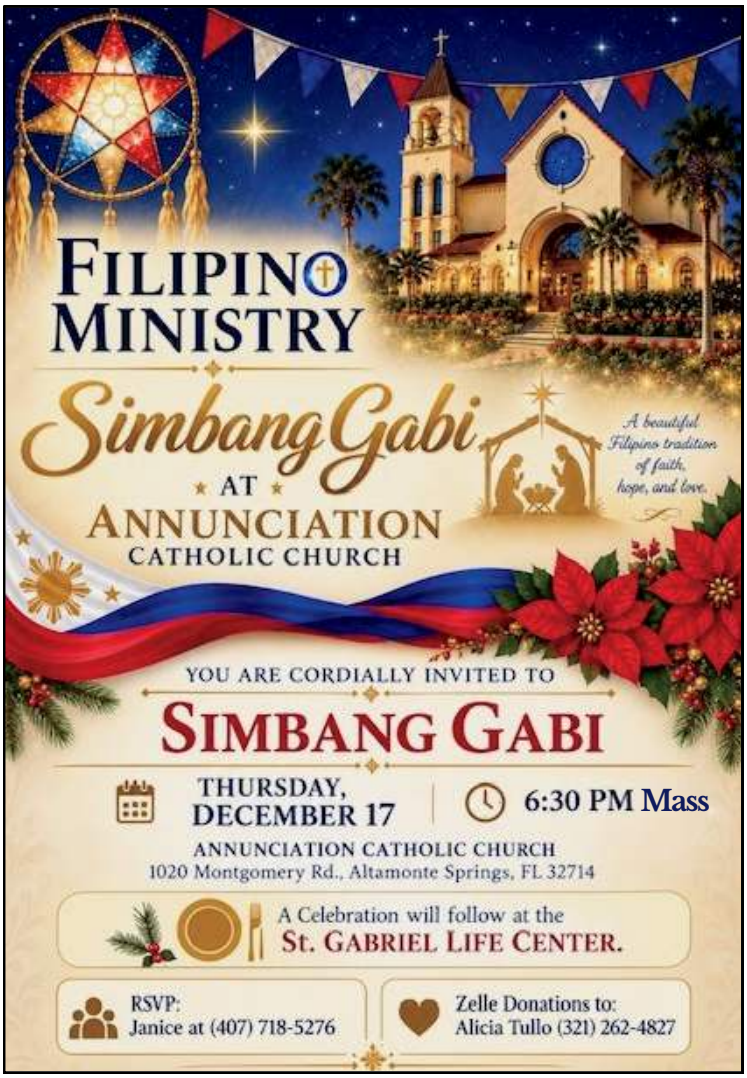

St. Joan of Arc Circle presents our 2026 Christmas Ornament.

The image for the ornament is of the beautiful Assumption Window found in the media center of our Parish School. The Window has its origins in 1907 and was rescued from demolition and sent to our campus when the school was built in 1995.

Ornaments will be for sale after all Masses on November 14 - 15 and November 21-22. They can be purchased for $25 by cash or check made payable to Annunciation Catholic Church or Zelle. Proceeds benefit local charities supported by St. Joan of Arc Circle.
